"The visit will be an opportunity to discuss gas supply issues."

Russian Prime Minister Dmitry Medvedev will arrive in Armenia on April 7.

Oxu.Az reports citing "Novosti Armenia" that the due statement came from the Prime Minister Hovik Abrahamyan.

According to him, the meeting of Prime Ministers of EAEC countries will be held in Yerevan on April 8.

Hovik Abrahamyan noted that among other issues, the visit will be an opportunity to discuss gas supply issues.

"This issue is being discussed within the framework of the Eurasian Union. At this meeting we will discuss this issue and find a decision," Abrahamyan said.
