Georgia's Prime Minister Giorgi Kvirikashvili will visit Azerbaijan, said Azerbaijan's Ambassador to Georgia Azer Huseyn.

He noted that the Georgian delegation will attend the meeting of Georgia-Azerbaijan intergovernmental commission, Georgia online website reported Apr.6.

"Azerbaijan invited Georgia's PM Giorgi Kvirikashvili to an official visit in late May, in the first ten-day period of the summer," said the ambassador.

Georgia-Azerbaijan intergovernmental commission is headed by the two prime ministers of the countries, noted Huseyn adding that currently, they are actively preparing for the PM's visit and for the commission's meeting.
