Iran's new Ambassador to Bishkek Ali Mojtaba Rouzbahani has called for expansion of trade ties with Kyrgyzstan.

At a meeting with President of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the Kyrgyz Republic Marat Sharshekeev, the Iranian envoy stressed the significance of creating a joint commerce chamber between the two countries, Fars news agency reported.

The envoy also urged for holding Iran's trade exhibitions in Bishkek, the report added.

Earlier in May, Iran and the Kyrgyz Republic signed several memorandums of understanding (MoUs) to increase bilateral exchanges in different fields.

The MoUs call for the formation of a joint investment council, energy and economic cooperation, agriculture as well as scientific and technological exchanges.
