INSIDE EUROPE - PROTESTS IN FRANCE OVER ALLEGED POLICE BRUTALITY

24.02.2017

Deutsche Welle (24 February 2017)

There are new claims of police brutality in France targeting racial minorities. Along with calls for reforming policing, the controversy has also cast a spotlight on Frances gritty banlieues - the low-income, immigrant heavy suburbs, with their poverty, high unemployment and crime. Some reject that stereotype - as Lisa Bryant reports from the Paris suburb of Bobigny.
