BiH Foreign Minister Igor Crnadak said that peace and stability in the region must be used for economic expansion that will ensure reforms, not only on paper, but a genuine improvement in everyday life.

The previously was stated at the Dubrovnik Forum 2017, adding that citizens should be given more employment, higher salaries and pensions, as well as a safer future for the future generations.

Moreover, Foreign Minister addressed the participants in the Pan-European Economic Cooperation Center in Southeastern Europe and the Mediterranean region, speaking about the problem in BiH that is present for a long time in BiH and that is the problem of the departure of young people because of economic hopelessness, lost trust in institutions and lack of faith in better tomorrow.

For the end of the speech, Minister Crnadak called on the South East European countries and the countries in the Mediterranean area to foster stronger co-operation and support for young people and the development of entrepreneurial spirit.
