
ALBANIAN PM RAMA HOLDS AN OFFICIAL VISIT TO ITALY

- 12.10.2017

Balkaneu (11 October 2017)

The strengthening of cooperation between the two countries and Italys support for Albania in the process of integration in the European Union is at the focus of an official visit that the Prime Minister of Albania, Edi Rama has held in Italy.

This afternoon, PM Edi Rama has held a meeting with his Italian counterpart, Paolo Gentiloni and the discussions between the two counterparts focused on the strategic partnership between the two countries, economic relations and joint projects, the request to increase the number of Italian investors in Albania, the joint war against organized crime and illegal trafficking, the war against international terrorism and situation in the Balkans.

Meanwhile, let us recall that Italy remains one of the main supporters of Albanias path toward the European Union and this meeting comes at a time when the country is waiting for a date to start accession talks with the EU.

Meanwhile, yesterday, PM Rama announced the opening of the Albanian consulate in Milan, while promising the opening of other consulates in the world.
