APA (25 December 2017)

"The Abkhazia railway will not be discussed during Armenian President Serzh Sargsyan's visit to Georgia, Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Georgia Mikheil Janelidze said, APA's local bureau reports.

He said that issues related to Georgia's occupied territories are not discussed with third parties.

It should be noted that there is regular information on the possibility of a railway line between Armenia and Russia through the occupied Abkhazia region. However, the Georgian side states that this issue is not a subject of discussion.
