Arka, Dec 25 2017

Serzh Sargsyan, Armenian president, received Friday Eurasian Development Bank Management Board Chairman Andrei Belianinov, the presidential press office reports.

Congratulating the guest on being appointed as chairman of the management board of the bank, the Sargsyan expressed confidence that Mr Belianinovs long work experience in both public and private sectors will help enhance the Banks role in the Eurasian space and implement new development programs in member countries.

Serzh Sargsyan and Andrei Belianinov discussed the prospects for deepening cooperation between Armenia and the Eurasian Development Bank, attracting investment and building up the Banks capacity.

Noting that during his visit he had already met with the prime minister and the finance minister of Armenia, and was therefore well-informed about the impressive pace of Armenias economic development, Andrei Belianinov stressed the Banks willingness to expand the scope of its commitments in Armenia.
