In January-June of 2018 the trade turnover between Armenia and Russia has exceeded the figures registered in the same span of the past year by 26%, Russias trade representative in Armenia Andrey Babko told the reporters today.

He said Russia is trying to promote not only export to Armenia but import from Armenia as well.

Besides the import of usual agricultural products import of fish, textile and shoes has also been intensified. These are high-taste things demanded in Russia, Babko said.

He emphasized Russias serious role in Armenias economy and said that about 37% of direct foreign investments in Armenia come to Russias share.
