Balkan Insight (9 November 2018)

Bosnian foodstuff producers are worried after Kosovo imposed a 10-per-cent customs tariff on imports from Bosnia and Serbia this week, citing their hostility towards Kosovo.

The trade balance between the two countries is unequal; the value of Bosnian exports to Kosovo is about ten times larger than Kosovo's exports to Bosnia.

Bosnia's Foreign Trade Chamber and the European Commission Trade Website say the country exported goods to Kosovo in 2017 worth some 80 million euros.

The cost of Bosnia's imports from Kosovo amounted to a paltry 8 million euros.
