Bilateral cooperation in political, economic and educational spheres was discussed during the meeting.

One of such initiatives is the organization of conferences with the participation of representatives of German political, business and research communities for debating economic cooperation between Kazakhstan and Germany, the EU and Central Asia, as well as the prospects for bilateral dialogue in light of the results of 9 June presidential election held in Kazakhstan.

These events are planned to be held at the end of this year and in early 2020 in Stuttgart and Berlin. In addition, the parties agreed to establish a working partnership with the BVMW - German Association of Small and Medium-sized Businesses, which plans to hold presentations about investment opportunities in Kazakhstan.

Ambassador Karipov also expressed interest in the Expatrio digital relocation platform enabling Kazakhstanis to study in Germany. The diplomat proposed that this platform be accessible through the website of the Consulate of Kazakhstan in Germany in order to promote its availability for our citizens.
