Armenia and the UK plan to hold a dialogue on education, during which the sides will discuss new possibilities of cooperation in the sector.

The idea has been discussed by Arevik Anapiosyan, Deputy Minister of Education, Science, Culture and Sport of Armenia, and Richard Everett, Director Education and Society, Wider Europe, British Council.

The parties have discussed organizing a joint forum, at which representatives of creative industry and education sector will gather at a single platform, enabling entrepreneurs and employers to take part in shaping standards of labor market in the educational programs for higher and secondary education level students.
