Officials from the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE), the Government of Tajikistan and civil society representatives met last week to discuss their joint activities for 2020, the OSCE Programme Office in Dushanbe said on August 28.

New initiatives will be launched next year, with existing areas of cooperation on economic development, anti-corruption and disaster risk reduction significantly expanded.

The meeting, known as the Partnership Platform, brought together representatives from 25 government agencies, as well as 40 civil society groups.
