The summer months have seen Iraq continue with its quota-busting production run. According to figures from S&P Global Platts, the country added another 10000 bpd in July, taking output to 4.78 million bpd, leaving it 270 000 bpd over its OPEC compliance target, due to higher crude exports from its southern terminals. Once again, it seems, Iraq is a force to be reckoned with in the global oil markets.
