The rivalry between the U.S. and China is playing out in India, where American President Donald Trump will be wrapping up his state visit to the South Asian country.

Experts said that Trumps first state visit to India signifies the growing strength of the relations between Washington and New Delhi, amid Chinas rising clout in South Asia. As part of his two-day visit which began on Monday, Trump was in New Delhi and Ahmedabad, the largest city in Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modis home state of Gujarat.
