EuroNews (26 March 2020)

European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen said that Europe was in a 'fight for its life' as the death toll and infection rate of coronavirus rises across the continent.

She told a relatively empty European Parliament that "the world has changed since the last time we met" and that the COVID-19 outbreak was a "turning point" for the 27-member bloc.

"What we do now really matters [...].The very basis of the EU is going to be determined by the decision we make now," she said.
