The foreign ministers of Ukraine and Turkmenistan, Dmytro Kuleba and Raşit Meredow, agreed to establish direct contact between Ukrainian and Turkmen companies.

The ministers discussed this issue during a phone conversation on June 1, the Ukrainian Foreign Ministry's press service reported.

"The foreign ministers of Ukraine and Turkmenistan agreed to organize virtual negotiations between Ukrainian and Turkmen companies interested in cooperation," the report reads.

Kuleba noted the importance of direct business contacts between the two countries, which will help increase trade and investment. According to him, the Ukrainian Foreign Ministry creates opportunities for Ukrainian companies abroad, in particular in Turkmenistan.

In turn, Meredow expressed great interest in reviving trade and investment, especially involving Ukrainian companies in infrastructure projects in Turkmenistan.

The parties also agreed to develop cooperation between the two countries in political, trade, investment, cultural and humanitarian sectors. In this context, they agreed to strengthen the dialogue between the Foreign Ministries of Ukraine and Turkmenistan and sign a program of cooperation between the two ministries in the near future.
