

AVRASYA
İNCELEMELERİ
MERKEZİ
CENTER FOR EURASIAN STUDIES

BANK AND CHURCH OF ENGLAND APOLOGISE FOR HISTORIC SLAVERY TIES

-

19.06.2020

BBC (19 June 2020)

The UK's central bank and the Church of England have both apologised for the role that some of their senior figures played in the slave trade.

Former Bank of England governors and directors profited from slavery, as did a bishop and dozens of other clergymen.

The Bank said it would ensure that images of former governors who were involved in the slave trade are not displayed in its buildings.

Click for more

Kaynak/Source: