Macron used his first overseas visit since the pandemic to travel to the UK and mark the 80th anniversary of General de Gaulle's appeal to the resistance. He spoke with Johnson and agreed to expedite post-Brexit talks.

French President Emmanuel Macron and British Prime Minister Boris Johnson agreed on Thursday to expedite Brexit negotiations between the UK and the European Union.

Johnson told Macron that there was no sense in extending post-Brexit trade deal talks into the autumn, his office said after the pair met at Downing Street.
