Srebrenica

Well-known Bosnian artist Safet Zec is exhibiting his paintings of Srebrenica victims at the former UN peacekeepers base near the town, where Bosniaks tried to take refuge from Bosnian Serb forces in July 1995.

Safet Zecs paintings of Bosniaks from Srebrenica go on display on Tuesday at the former UN peacekeepers base, a disused battery factory in Potocari where the Srebrenica Memorial Centre is located, as part of commemorations of the 25th anniversary of the genocide.
