
RUSSIA REPORT: UK CONSIDERS TOUGHER SECURITY LAWS AFTER CRITICISM BY MPS

-

23.07.2020

BBC (22 July 2020)

British Ministers are considering strengthening security laws after a report by MPs accused them of underestimating the threat of Russian interference.

Home Office Minister James Brokenshire said foreign agents could be required to register in the UK in future.

He told MPs that this and other "new offences and powers" for dealing with foreign spies were being looked at.

Click for more

Kaynak/Source: