Middle East Monitor (25 September 2020)

The Iraqi Fatah Alliance condemned on Thursday the missile attacks launched by unknown parties on the headquarters of diplomatic missions and official institutions, expressing that these attacks weaken the state and will lead to dangerous results.

The Fatah Alliance led by Hadi Al-Amiri includes the political branches of the Popular Mobilisation Forces (PMF), comprising those who receive support and funding from Iran. The alliance holds 48 seats in parliament out of 329.

The Fatah Alliance announced in a statement: We declare our rejection and condemnation of any attack targeting diplomatic missions and official institutions.
