An aid convoy of a Turkish aid agency set off Thursday from Istanbul to Azerbaijan and Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Nine trucks -- seven for Azerbaijan, two for Bosnia and Herzegovina -- carrying humanitarian aid left after a ceremony at the Turkish Red Crescent (Kızılay) logistics center in Istanbul.

Nine trucks of humanitarian aid are on their way; one to the east to Caucasus, Azerbaijan, the other to the Balkans to Bosnia and Herzegovina, Sarajevo, said Kerem Kinik, head of the agency.
