Iran pays special attention to cooperation with Kazakhstan within the framework of the Eurasian Economic Union (EAEU), Iranian Minister of Foreign Affairs Mohammad Javad Zarif said Wednesday, Kazinform correspondent reports.

During his visit to the Kazakh Ministry of Foreign Affairs on Wednesday, the Iranian Foreign Minister noted that cultural, historical, political and economic ties between Iran and Kazakhstan are of paramount importance.

He revealed that during his meeting with his Kazakhstani counterpart, Mukhtar Tileuberdi, they touched upon the prospects of cooperation as well as important bilateral, regional and international issues. According to him, the sides also discussed the Afghani crisis and how to ensure equality between nationalities and peoples living there.

He continued by adding that Iranian-Kazakh cooperation within the framework of the Eurasian Economic Union is important as well.

Mohammad Javad Zarif pointed out that Iran supports many initiatives of the First President of Kazakhstan, Nursultan Nazarbayev, including his initiative to create a nuclear-free zone.

In conclusion, the Iranian diplomat talked about the joint use of the Caspian Sea by the Caspian countries.
