French Justice Minister Eric Dupond-Moretti has accused Marine Le Pen of trying to dismiss an investigation into her as being politically motivated.

The criticism comes after Journal du Dimanche, a weekly newspaper, reported Sunday that the National Rally had set up an organized fraudulent system of misappropriation of European funds via [the creation of] fake jobs for parliamentary assistants, citing a 98-page police report.

Le Pen, whos trailing President Emmanuel Macron in polls ahead of a 2022 election, dismissed the allegations on Twitter as being nothing new and showed on the contrary how well she was doing in the polls.
