EurActiv (16 June 2021)

French President Emmanuel Macron announced the objective of having 10 companies worth □□□ billion by 2030 in Europe on Tuesday (15 June) after he received the Scale-Up Europe collective on Tuesday (15 June), which presented him with its recommendations to encourage the emergence of digital giants in Europe. EURACTIV France reports.

We need to build a stronger European ecosystem and champions, and entrepreneurs need to push governments to be more efficient, to stay in the race against the US and China, said French President Emmanuel Macron.

The head of state received a dozen ministers, investors and French and European digital entrepreneurs from the Scale-Up collective, to discuss the 21 recommendations featured in their report.
