Facing an identical and serious challenge from their respective neighbouring countries, India and Greece have agreed to work towards the establishment of a Strategic Partnership, opening up new perspectives for the consolidation and upgrading of relations between both the countries in a number of areas of common interest.

Recognising the threat posed by radicalization, violent extremism, as well as terrorism, including cross border terrorism, New Delhi and Athens focused on promoting dialogue and enhancing cooperation between the two countries at all levels during the visit of External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, the first by an Indian foreign minister to the Greek capital in 18 years.
