Georgia attaches great importance to its relations and cooperation with its neighbor and strategic partner Turkey, Prime Minister Irakli Garibashvili said Monday.

Garibashvili participated in the promotional program on "Foreign policy focused on the values of the West and the interests of the country: 10 years vision, 10 goals" organized by the Georgian Ministry of Foreign Affairs in the capital Tbilisi.

Speaking at the opening at the Expo Georgia Fair Center, Garibashvili talked about the bilateral cooperation and strategic partnership between Turkey and Georgia. "We have a strategic partnership with Turkey and naturally we attach great importance to friendship and cooperation with Turkey," he emphasized.
