Iraqi News Agency (October 13, 2021)

The leader of the Sadrist movement, Muqtada al-Sadr, affirmed his determination to fight corruption under penalty of law.

Al-Sadr said in a tweet to him on the Twitter platform, which was followed by the Iraqi News Agency (INA), today, Wednesday: Civil peace in my country will not be shaken public over private.

He continued, "We are the resistance to the occupation, terrorism and normalization, and we will not extend our hands to any Iraqi, no matter what."

He added: "We will fight corruption under the penalty of law, and a prime minister, neither eastern nor western, to restore Iraq's prestige and strength.".
