
BRITAIN'S JOHNSON APPOINTS MILITARY CHIEF AS BALKANS ENVOY

03.12.2021

Balkan Insight (2 November 2021)

Perparim Isufi

Pristina

The UK has appointed a heavyweight military figure as Special Envoy to Western Balkans (*), at a time when British PM Boris Johnson says the region is "experiencing the biggest threat to stability and security in over two decades.

Air Chief Marshall Sir Stuart Peach has been named British Prime Minister Boris Johnsons Envoy for the Western Balkans, adding to the list of international envoys to the region after the United States and European Union did the same with Gabriel Escobar and Miroslav Lajcak.

Click for more

(*) AVİM considers the term "Western Balkans" to be a politically motivated separatist terminology and insist on the use of the geographical and historical identification "Balkans" regarding the region.

Kaynak/Source: