
US NAVY WORKING TO RECOVER F35 FROM SOUTH CHINA SEA

- 26.01.2022

Al Jazeera (26 January 2022)

The United States Navy is making arrangements to recover an F-35C fighter jet that fell into the South China Sea after an accident as the pilot attempted a landing on the USS Carl Vinson aircraft carrier.

The pilot ejected safely but was among seven military personnel who were hurt in the incident.

I can confirm the aircraft impacted the flight deck during landing and subsequently fell to the water, said Lieutenant Nicholas Lingo, spokesperson for the US Seventh Fleet.
