Since 2019, the Turkish military has dealt a serious blow to the terrorist PKK with its series of operations under the Claw umbrella in northern Iraq, close to the Turkish border.

A total of 1,067 terrorists were neutralized as part of the series of Claw operations, which started with Hakurk in 2019, continued with Sinat-Haftanin, expanded with Metina and Avasin-Basyan, and most recently continued with the Zap region.

PKK terrorists often hide out in northern Iraq, close to the Turkish border, to plot attacks in Türkiye.
