Street fighting raged for the control of Ukraine's flashpoint city of Sievierodonetsk, with the situation changing "every hour", an official has said.

"Our heroes are holding their positions in Sievierodonetsk. Fierce street fights continue in the city," Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said in a video address.

Sievierodonetsk - the largest city still in Ukrainian hands in the Luhansk region of the Donbass - has been the focal point in recent weeks, and officials described a fast-changing situation on the ground.
