Ukraine crisis sounds alarm for humanity — China

The conflict in Ukraine has sounded an alarm for humanity, Chinese leader Xi Jinping said, as China continues to assume a position of neutrality while backing its ally Russia.

The Ukraine crisis has again sounded the alarm for humanity. Countries will surely end up in security hardships if they place blind faith in their positions of strength, expand military alliances, and seek their own safety at the expense of others," the official Xinhua News Agency quoted Xi as saying.

In other comments, Xi said imposing sanctions could act as a boomerang and a double-edged sword, and that the global community would suffer from politicising, mechanising and weaponising global economic trends and financial flows.
