Central Asian countries and countries of the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) are preparing the first meeting of heads of state in the framework of the strategic dialogue, the Dunyo news agency, run by Uzbekistan's Foreign Ministry, reported on Thursday.

According to the report, ambassadors of Central Asian states and representatives of the GCC have met for consultations in Riyadh and agreed to hold the first GCC - Central Asia strategic dialogue summit of heads of state.

GCC Assistant Secretary-General Abdel Aziz Hamad Aluwaisheg said that the Gulf countries have always had good relations with the countries of Central Asia and were interested in the further development of these ties, as cited in the report.
