The media advisor to the Prime Minister, Hisham Al-Rikabi, confirmed today, Sunday, that mutual interests join Iraq's relationship with America.

Al-Rikabi said in a tweet, followed by the Iraqi News Agency (INA): Americas relationship with Iraq is not governed by controls, but by common interests.

"The talk about the presence of preconditions for the prime minister's visit to Washington is just an attempt to distract public opinion from the diplomatic efforts made by the national service government at various levels." Al-Rikabi said.
