Latest show of force from Pyongyang comes as it bristles at military drills by South Korea and the US.

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un has supervised two days of drills simulating a nuclear counterattack – including the firing of a ballistic missile carrying a mock nuclear warhead – according to state news agency KCNA, as South Korea and the United States continued their own military exercises.

Kim expressed satisfaction over the weekend launches, which were held to let relevant units get familiar with the procedures and processes for implementing their tactical nuclear attack missions, KCNA reported on Monday.
