Moscow sees neither opportunity nor need to develop dialogue with West on South Caucasus, says Russian foreign minister

Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov on Monday said the West is engaging in a "diplomatic raid" and undermines the key principles of the tripartite agreements between Russia, Azerbaijan, and Armenia.

They (the West) are by and large engaged in what I would call a diplomatic raid. When they are trying to subdue the trilateral agreements between Russia, Armenia, and Azerbaijan, they are trying to impose their curatorship on all this work, directly undermining the key principles of these documents," Lavrov said, during a news conference with his Armenian counterpart Ararat Mirzoyan in the capital Moscow.
