| 'High migration pressure' makes it necessary to extend border controls, Austrian interior ministertells local media.   |
| Austria's interior minister said on Tuesday that he plans to apply to the EU Commission to extended border controls with Hungary and Slovenia for another six months.                    |
| The country wants to continue the controls due to the "high migration pressure" last year, Gerhard Karner of the conservative Austrian People's Party (OVP) told local radio station O1. |
