Al Jazeera (12 April 2023)

Spokesman admits some of the dead were people in civilian clothes after attack on ceremony held by anti-coup group.

Myanmars military has admitted carrying out an air attack on a community hall in the central Sagaing region that reportedly killed at least 50 people, including women and schoolchildren performing dances.

Zaw Min Tun, a spokesman for the military, confirmed the raid late on Tuesday, saying security forces attacked an opening ceremony for the office of an alleged militia group opposed to their rule in Pa Zi Gyi village.
