"Bulgaria is a strategic partner of the United States of America". This is what the new American ambassador Kenneth Merten said during a business breakfast with the members of the American Chamber of Commerce in our country.

During his first public event in Bulgaria, Merten thanked for the warm welcome. He pointed out that since he was ambassador to Croatia in the period 2012-2015, the strategic importance of the Balkans is growing.

The diplomat said that in the energy sector, he highly appreciates Bulgaria's rapid diversification from Russian gas.
