Matilda Bogner has been appointed the new regional representative of the Office of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights in Central Asia. This is reported on the page of the regional office of the organization on Instagram.

"I am very happy to return to Central Asia, a unique region of the world. This year, when the 75th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights is celebrated, we have the opportunity to work to further strengthen human rights in this region and around the world. I believe that together with the OHCHR team in Central Asia, partners and associates, we will be able to contribute to ensuring freedom, equality and justice for everyone," she commented.
