
KAZAKHSTAN ADVOCATES UNITING INTERNATIONAL EFFORTS TO ASSIST AFGHANISTAN

- 31.07.2023

The Astana Times (28 July 2023)

Kazakhstan is advocating to combine international efforts to assist Afghanistan and address the country's complex humanitarian crisis, said Kazakh First Deputy Foreign Minister Kairat Umarov at a meeting with United States Special Representative for Afghanistan, Thomas West, reported the ministry's press service.

West arrived in Astana to attend the C5+1 special session on Afghanistan on July 27-28, during which Kazakhstan, the Kyrgyz Republic, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan and the U.S. considered the provision of humanitarian aid to Afghan people, the protection of human rights, international cooperation, security and the fight against terrorism.
