
GREECE: GOVERNMENT PROTESTED OVER NEW LABOUR LAW AND STANCE ON DISASTERS

-

18.09.2023

Millet News (17 September 2023)

In Athens, protests were held against the government's handling of natural disasters and the planned changes in labour laws.

Different trade unions and organisations as well as student groups took part in the action, calling for a general strike for 21 September.

In the demonstration attended by approximately 1500 people, banners carried and slogans chanted in front of the parliament building expressed that the government was inadequate in fire and flood disasters.

Click for more.

Kaynak/Source: