The Turkish Minister of Energy and Natural Resources, Alparslan Bayraktar, said that the inspection of the oil pipeline between Iraq and Turkey has been completed, and the pipeline will be technically ready for operation soon.

Turkey had stopped oil flows through the pipeline in northern Iraq on March 25, after the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) ordered Ankara to pay Baghdad $1.5 billion in compensation for damages caused by the Kurdistan Regional Governments (KRG) export of oil without permission from the federal government in Baghdad between 2014 and 2018.
