
STANDOFF BETWEEN KOSOVO POLICE AND SERBIAN GUNMEN ENDS WITH FOUR KILLED

- 25.09.2023

The Guardian (25 September 2023)

Sundays attack marks serious escalation in Kosovo after months of mounting tensions with Serbia.

A standoff between gunmen and Kosovo authorities at a monastery near the border with Serbia ended after four people were killed, authorities in Pristina said, after a police operation to regain control of the area.

We put this territory under control. It was done after several consecutive battles, Xhelal Svecla, Kosovos minister of internal affairs, told reporters after the standoff was over.
