Bulgarias pro-EU parties won convincingly in the countrys local elections, and the intrigue in the second round is between the two leading parliamentary forces – the coalition between We Continue the Change and Democratic Bulgaria (PP-DB) or GERB, the strongest party in local government.

GERB maintains its leading position in most major cities except for Sofia, where PP-DB candidate Vasil Terziev, one of Bulgarias biggest IT entrepreneurs, is leading convincingly (38.8%), according to Gallup International Balkan.
