Azerbaijan, launching the peace initiative immediately after the end of the war and conflict, began to actively promote the idea of normalization of relations with Armenia and the peace process, taking measures to carry out large-scale restoration and construction work in the liberated territories, as well as for reintegration of Armenian residents living in the Karabakh region into Azerbaijani society, Trend reports via Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

This is stated in Azerbaijani Foreign Ministry's statement on the occasion of November 8 - Victory Day.
