
JAPAN'S INTERVENTION IN A TAIWAN CONTINGENCY: IT DEPENDS

-

27.11.2023

The Diplomat (24 November 2023)

William Choong

How a conflict starts, and how the United States responds, would weigh heavily into Tokyos considerations.

In recent years, Japan has faced increased threats from various directions: from Russia to the north, and from North Korea and China to the west. No wonder, as John Mearsheimer once put it, Japans defense posture needs to be more like Godzilla and less like Bambi.

Click for more

Kaynak/Source: