Armenia is still a CSTO ally, the defense blocs Secretary-General Imangali Tasmagambetov has said.

I think theres no sense in drawing conclusions from this situation, Armenia was, and still is, our ally, the CSTO Secretary General told TASS news agency. I think this says it all. As far as the CSTO Secretariat knows, the reasons behind the Armenian delegations absence are technical in nature. In any case, thats the decision of an independent and sovereign state whom no other state or organization can impact. The CSTO respects the decision of the Republic of Armenia as a full member of the organization, he said, referring to the absence of Armenia in the bloc's session in Belarus.
